This is the Generation Box Legend, or GBL, which explains the single [boxed numbers].

Above shows an update line; every time the page is updated, the month, year and reference # will change.

This bold lettering is "the header." Thomas & Sarah are the common ancestors for everyone listed in this section.

[1] JAMES WALKER ATKINSON [03-009]
b.14AUG1885 Palermo, Halton Co, ON

SI12, SI29, SI34, SI39, SI40, SI41, SI42, SI44, SI49, SI58, SI59, SI137, SI141
SI29, SI41, SI42, SI44, SI49, SI137

Single boxed numbers [1] before a name represents generations. James Walker is a son. Below, James Henry is listed as a grandson, which is why he has [2]. You are [3], your children are [4], and so on. As explained in the GBL, located under the header, each number represents how we are related to Thomas and Sarah.

The numbering on this side of the page represents references, proofs and information sources. The numbers are valid for this section [03] only; because the other sections [01, 02, 05-09 and 11-14] have their own numbering. Please see detailed NOTES below for important information.

[2] JAMES HENRY ATKINSON [03-225]

SI34, SI37, SI38, SI39, SI41, SI42, SI49

Large boxed numbers [03-225] after a name are ID numbers. 03 is this person is a descendant of Thomas ATKINSON II & Sarah CAWARD. 225 is the individual number for James Henry ATKINSON.

< This is the actual page number; it is centered along the bottom of each page.

NOTES:

Sometimes information "conflicts" with each other. When this happens, I use different colours to show the differences. For example: a death date was listed as 10-04-11. Which one is the correct date...

OCT 4, 1911?

APR 10, 1911?

APR 11, 1910?

NOV 4, 1910?

I don't know either! So, I use colours to show the conflicts in information.

1. BLACK shows the first date I found, but it does not necessarily mean it is the correct one.
2. RED shows the next date I located ...
3. Then BLUE ...
4. And if there is still another conflict date, GREEN.
